EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

In Hinduism, the God of destruction is more powerful than the God of creation. There is an environmental lesson here. Today we are creating stuff — and lots of it — which is not possible to destroy in our lifetime. Think of plastic or carbon dioxide emissions. Or think of pet coke, a petroleum industry by-product. It is extremely polluting because of its high sulphur content as well as emissions of heavy metals and mercury. In fact, it's the pollution that has been transferred from one product to another. Over the years we have progressively improved the quality of fuel for automobiles. To do this, the sulphur content in petrol and diesel has been reduced from 10,000 parts per million (ppm) in the mid-1990s to 50 ppm today. To meet BS-VI vehicle emission standards, refineries will further bring down sulphur to 10 ppm or lower. Only then can the after-treatment devices installed in vehicles work. We thought once this is done, the problem of air pollution will go away. Wrong.

The fact is that the same sulphur, which is removed from the fuel, ends up in the waste product, pet coke. There are no regulations for pet coke quality. Its sulphur levels are between 65,000 ppm and 75,000 ppm! This, when burnt, will greatly add to air pollution. It is just that instead of the tailpipe, emission will be emitted from the chimney. — Sunita Narain in Business Standard.

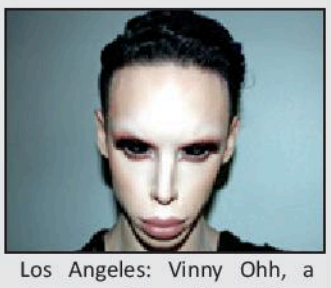
Raw Cookie dough hit in NY

New York: DO Cookie Dough Confections, 28, a small shop in Greenwich Village, New York (NY), sells roughly 1,500 pounds of safe-to-eat raw cookie dough every day to people willing to spend over an hour in line for a chance to relive their childhood fantasies.

In 2014, Tomlan almost died after an allergic reaction to an antibiotic left her in a medically induced coma for three weeks, just a couple of months before her wedding. This near-death experience made her realise that life is short and she should follow her dreams. She first started her raw-cookie dough business online after a good response she quit her job and solely focused on her business.

To ensure that clients don't have to deal with a tummy ache, Tomlan and her staff only use heat-treated flour and pasteurized eggs, so the dough is perfectly safe to eat raw.

Genderless Alien



Los Angeles: Vinny Ohh, a makeup artist and part-time male model from Los Angeles, California, has so far invested over $50,000 into 110 cosmetic procedures in an effort to turn himself into an asexual alien.

Vinny Ohh claims that he doesn't identify as either male or female and this ongoing process of transforming into an alien being is meant to mirror how he feels inside. He began his unusual project at age of 17, when he got his first lip fillers, followed by two rhinoplasties, several cheeks and brow bone fillers. But now he plans to spend $160,000 having his genitalia, nipples and bellybutton removed and his forehead realigned. Ohh, who describes himself as "extra-terrestrial, hot mess, self-obsessed,"often wears large blackened contact lenses, and dyes his hair in unusual colours. Vinny claims that he is undertaking this extreme transformation to express his belief that people should not be labeled. "I'm trying to wake people up to show them that gender roles in society do not matter and show them that we need to be better human beings and nicer to one another," he said.

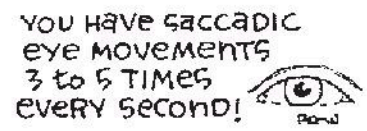
What is saccadic masking?



Without knowing it, you experience brief periods of blindness throughout your day. These flashes of blindness are called saccadic masking. During this time, your brain blocks out the blurriness caused by eye movements. These gaps in vision add up to about 5 hours of blindness per week, or 10 days per year.

How to control stray dog population

Sir,

Residents of Ramakrishnanagar H-Bock have been facing the problem of stray dogs chasing children, cyclists, two-wheelers, vendors,cattle etc., besides making loud noise during night and thus depriving us the much-needed sleep.

They are also multiplying in short time, thanks to inefficient animal birth control programme. Several puppies are born and are roaming the streets and they are fed by residents out of compassion. There is a danger of puppies being run over by vehicles. This scenario, I am sure, is most common in many parts of our city.

It is not unexpected that in the near future some of the dogs may turn rabid and God forbid, may bite humans. All of us are aware of the horrible disease and death of humans and other animals by rabid dog bites.

When some residents approached MCC through the local Corporator what we realised was the huge problem of policy regarding the issue. According to the health officer, dogs should not be killed or relocated to new areas as per the directives from the Central government in charge of animal welfare. Lactating dogs cannot be operated to prevent breeding. Puppies cannot be picked up by the squad until they are 4-6 months old for birth control operation.

As there is only one squad for the city of 65 wards, hardly only one visit can be made to a ward in a whole year. Even when this is done, 8 out of 10 dogs run away and hardly any dog can be taken for sterilization operation making the entire scheme and system useless. It seems a case is pending in the Supreme Court against the directives of the Central Ministry for adjudication.

Will the MCC please deliberate on this issue and provide guidelines both for public and the health department of MCC?

Is adoption of stray puppies by each household, keeping them fed and chained and getting them duly sterilized for birth control one of the methods? What about increasing the capacity of dog pound at the public cost to control dog population? They may like to impose a cess to create additional dog pounds. Will stakeholders like People For Animals (PFA), please come out with suggestions?

Comments on 'No-honking' campaign

Sir,

This is in response to the recent report in SOM on the campaign against honking. While that would be a highly desirable goal, it could prove counter-productive if one did not first address the reasons for at least the justified hoots.

People often drive/ride with a cellphone stuck to their ears. For one's own safety if for nothing else, one is forced to hoot to alert the other person of their presence. The number of people switching lanes without first checking for other vehicles, or cutting right across lanes to make a right turn from the left-most lane is no small number.

Unfortunately, our roads are teeming with people who have little respect for traffic rules, starting from traffic lights to signs prohibiting U-turns, and dictating speed limits.

The thought of commuting without being constantly bombarded by hoots is extremely welcoming. But unless this goal is also accompanied by an equally (if not more) enthusiastic campaign to educate people on the absolute necessity to obey traffic rules, it would only result in an increase in the number of deaths.

Siddharamaiah has lost control over administration: H.D. Deve Gowda

Bengaluru, Mar. 5 (KMS&DM)- Alleging that the administrative machinery has completely collapsed in the State, former PM and JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda has said that it seems Chief Minister Siddharamaiah has lost control over the administration. Speaking to press persons here yesterday, Deve Gowda said that officials were working within four walls, instead of venturing out to hear the problems of people.

Claiming that he had never seen such poor administration in his over 5-decade political career, the former PM observed that Siddharamaiah had some more time to bring the administrative machinery back on track.

Lashing out at the State Government for failing to tackle drought and farmer issues, Deve Gowda urged the CM to at least wake up now and take immediate measures for alleviating sufferings of the people, who are reeling under the worst drought in over four decades.

Criticising the Government's handling of the Law and Order situation during Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan's visit to Mangaluru recently, Deve Gowda wondered whether Mangaluru was under RSS rule.

"Is this the way to treat the Chief Minister of a neighbouring State?" he asked.

Deve Gowda threatened to stage an indefinite dharna in front of Chief Minister Siddharamaiah's official residence if the Government fails to ensure drinking water to the people of Hassan district.

Bandipur receives first rainfall of the year

Bandipur, Mar.5- Bandipur forests, which witnessed massive loss of vegetation in the recent forest fires, received first rainfall of the year yesterday, much to the delight of the Forest Department, which had to battle a series of forest fires in recent days.

The rainfall also brought down the soaring temperature in the forest region. Mudumalai and Masinagudi forests in Tamil Nadu have been receiving heavy rains since yesterday afternoon.

Following the rains, cloudy weather persisted in the entire Bandipur Forest area including Moolehole Forest range, which was the worst hit by forest fires.

Yesterday's showers have partly filled up the dry water bodies in the forests, which may be just about enough for drinking water needs of animals.

Forest Officials believe that yesterday's showers may bring forest fires under control and more rains in the coming days may help in partly regaining the lost vegetation.

PU lecturers threaten to boycott evaluation

Mysuru, Mar. 5- Once again, Pre-University College Principals and lecturers have decided to boycott evaluation of II PUC answer scripts. President of Karnataka State Pre-University College Lecturers' Association Thimmaiah Purle said in Bengaluru yesterday that they had asked the State Government to set right pay disparity, increase basic salary from Rs. 22,800 to Rs. 26,000 and implement the Kumar Naik Committee report.

He added that the meeting with Chief Minister Siddharamaiah on Mar. 3 did not help resolve issues. PU lecturers were also demanding that they be promoted to degree colleges, he added.

It may be recalled that last year, evaluation of answer scripts was delayed for two weeks following a boycott by lecturers. After this, the State Government gave them one round of increment, which the lecturers said was not sufficient.

DEPT. PREPARES FOR EXAM: Meanwhile, the Department of Pre-University Education has requested the Police to secure examination centres and ensure the safety of question papers and other confidential materials.

"We have written to DG&IGP requesting him to direct SPs in all districts to ensure security in and around exam centres. Fair Price Shops told to install biometric devices

Bengaluru, Mar. 5- Minister for Food and Civil Supplies U.T. Khader has said that directions have been issued to Fair Price Shops to install biometric devices within the next two months.

Addressing reporters here yesterday, he said that biometric proof would be in addition to the coupon system to distribute rations under the Public Distribution System (PDS). "Any family member in a card holder's family can give biometric proof to collect rations. Aged and unwell persons may get the coupon numbers on their mobile phones to get their quota through their assistants," he added. The Minister said that the rule to install biometric devices would be relaxed in tribal places and remote villages where power supply is a problem.

"We have not made it mandatory to obtain coupons. Card holders can get coupons through their mobile phones and visit the PDS store to get rations. Those who are not able to get it can go to the store directly and get rations," he said.

He said that the system was prepared to dispense rations either with the coupons or without them and cardholders need not worry in case they could not get the coupons.

Food and Civil Supplies Department Secretary Harsh Gupta said that the cost of biometric devices should be borne by shop owners for which bank loans would be available. To meet the cost, the Government would give more commission to shop owners, he added.

Gupta said that if the card holders are deprived of rations for any reason, they can lodge a complaint by calling *161# and giving the Aadhaar number provided in the rations card. Those who have not got the rations would get 'food compensation,' he said.

Complaint lodged at Vijayanagar Police Station

Mysuru, Mar. 5 (KS)- An incident of a businessman being cheated by another businessman to the tune of Rs. 22 lakh and the conman going absconding has been reported from Vijayanagar Police limits in city.

While the businessman, who was cheated has been identified as Mahaveer Jain, a wholesale distributor or electric wires and other electric products, the another businessman, who cheated Jain, has been identified as Nizamuddin Mallik, proprietor of Victoria Infrastructure with the office located at Vijayanagar 2nd Stage here.

It is reported that Nizamuddin on Jan. 7, 2017, made a call from his mobile phone (98458-31005) besides sending e-mails and befriended Jain telling him that he was constructing a Medical College in Arasikere and required electric wires. He sent a purchase order for electric wires at an estimated cost of Rs. 22,91,060 through e-mail.

Nizamuddin had informed Jain that he would be making the payment within 15 days after receiving the consignment, for which Jain had agreed and sent the consignment on Jan. 14, 2017 through a transport.

When the consignment reached Arasikere, Nizamuddin had asked the consignment to be delivered to his godown there, and took the delivery.

Meanwhile, when Jain called up Nizamuddin and asked for the payment on Jan. 30, Nizamuddin is said to have postponed the date by giving reasons.

When Jain tried to call him from Feb. 7, Nizamuddin's phone was switched off continuously, following which Jain visited the godown in Arasikere on Feb. 18 only to find it locked. He later visited his office in Vijayanagar here which was also found locked.

When Jain contacted the neighbours, they reportedly told him that the office was locked since a month, following which, Jain lodged a complaint with Vijayanagar Police.

Vijayanagar Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are investigating.

Chandan Achar

After 'Kirik', Chandan aims for a bigger 'Party'

Actor-Director Rakshit Shetty's debut production 'Kirik Party' has grabbed headlines for being an out-and-out entertainer made out of a shoe-string budget. The film, directed by Rishab Shetty, has a host of supporting cast entirely made up of new faces. And these fresh faces have become a household name, thanks to the film that has entered the 'hit' league with its originality, innovativeness and full-of-youth plot and story-line. One of the fresh faces in the movie is Mysurean Chandan Achar, who plays the role of 'Alexander Gabriel'.

A graduate from Maharaja's College, Chandan learnt theatre basics at Natana and later joined renowned Ninasam in Heggodu, Shivamogga district. As an amateur artiste, he made his debut on stage through the play 'Sankranti', directed by actor Mandya Ramesh a few years back.

Star of Mysore* caught up with Chandan Achar, one of the 'Kirik' boys, during his recent visit to Mysuru where he spoke about the success of the movie and future projects. Excerpts...

By S.N. Venkatnag Sobers

Chandan Achar (extreme right) with 'Kirik Party' team.

Star of Mysore (SOM): How did 'Kirik Party' happen?

Chandan: I wanted to act in movies even at the time when I was in Ninasam. After graduation from the theatre repertory, I came to Bengaluru and started working with theatre director Sethuram, later with B. Jayashree and Hulugappa Kattimani and other amateur theatre groups. I was looking for a break and one fine day, I received a message from my friend regarding 'Kirik Party' auditions. On his advice, with no hopes I attended the audition. I remember I had received '759' card number out of 3,000. Luckily I got selected. Today, the movie has been received well by the audience and people have also appreciated my work along with others. It's like a dream come true.

SOM: Share with us your experience of working with Rakshit Shetty?

Chandan: Rakshit Shetty is basically a brilliant director and actor. We all have seen the way Rakshit grew in film industry as an actor, director, producer, lyricist, choreographer, singer in a very short span, definitely because of his talent. After being selected for the movie, the first thing Rakshit told us was to gel with each other and become friends which actually worked for the movie. He is a kind of a person who always wants 100 percent from his actors and gives emphasis on realistic acting. He has created a different genre for himself through his movies such as 'Ulidavaru Kandanthe', 'Ricky', 'Godhi Banna Sadharana Mykattu' and others. I think Rakshit's mastery over script and technical skills contributed majorly for the success of 'Kirik Party.' As a producer, he has done his work neatly in all aspects. The best part of him is supporting young talents.

SOM: Tell us about your future projects?

Chandan: I wanted to work with Yograj Bhat from many years. Finally I got an opportunity to work in 'Mugulunage' which also stars 'Golden Star' Ganesh. I have also been approached for other movies which are still under discussion.

SOM: Do you wish to act in other languages as well?

Chandan: As an actor, I want to learn a lot of languages and act in as many movies as I can in various languages. I don't want to restrict myself to Kannada as I believe that as an actor one should be able to adapt to various formats and languages. Currently, I am focusing on my future projects. If opportunity to act in other language movies comes my way I would definitely think about taking them up.

SOM: According to you how important is theatre experience for an actor before entering the film world?

Chandan: For an actor, it is important to feel the character he plays be it in movies, television soaps or theatre. A person, who does not have such capabilities, cannot be an actor. According to me, imitation is basic of acting and unfortunately many wouldn't have crossed the level of imitation. For a person to be able to cross the level of imitation and create a space, theatre experience is most important as it will help one groom his/ her acting skills more than it helps one to get into movies.

SOM: In recent years many youngsters from Mysuru have got into movies. Your views.

Chandan: I feel really proud that a lot of youngsters have entered big and small screen from Mysuru. There were people who were working in the industry since yesteryears but were not recognised much except for a few. Now the scenario has changed as talented people are sure to get instant recognition and fame. There are youngsters from Mysuru working both on and off the sets. Ours being a cultural city, it is sure to give more talented people to the industry.

SOM: How has life changed since 'Kirik Party'?

Chandan: Life has definitely changed since the release of the movie. People recognise me wherever I go. It also motivates me to get better as an actor and deliver to the best of my ability ▪

Cong. will win bypolls, says Brijesh

Brijesh Kalappa

Mysuru, Mar. 5 (US&MTY)- Congress will smoothly win the forth coming Nanjangud and Gundlupet byelections to Assembly, predicted Brijesh Kalappa, AICC spokesperson.

Addressing a press meet at Jaladarshini Guest House on Hunsur Road here this morning Brijesh Kalappa ruled out any obstacle in the by-election and dubbed the prediction of former Minister V. Seernivasa Prasad as meaningless and irrational. He expressed trust in the electorate which can weigh the strength and merit of Congress.

Continuing Brijesh Kalappa pointed out that Prime Minister Narendra Modi was utilising the Defence power for opportunistic benefits without caring of the precious lives of jawans. He added that Modi had not visited the house of a single jawan who had died in the recent times in terrorist attacks.

Referring to personal tweets of MP Pratap Simha, Brijesh Kalappa suggested the MP to better visit drought-hit areas in State and do some constructive work in expediting the Central aid instead of tweeting irrationally on each and every issue.

District Congress President B.J. Vijayakumar, spokesperson G.V. Seetharam and others were present.

Former Forest Minister blames mafias for forest fires in State

Asks Forest Department to be prepared for the worst in coming months

Vijayashankar

Mysuru, Mar. 5 (MTY&KS) Former Forest Minister C.H. Vijayashankar has blamed timber, sand and mining mafias besides blaming illegal cattle transporters for forest fires that devastated Bandipur National Park and other forests of the State.

He asked the Forest Department to be prepared for the worst in the coming days if rains fail.

Addressing media persons at Patrakarthara Bhavan in city this morning, Vijayashankar said, "if action is not taken at the earliest, more forests would be destroyed in the days to come."

He said that the State Government should soon convey a meeting and discuss about saving our forests besides taking action to control mafias, which are destroying our forests.

Stating that lantana was the major problem in forests, he said that there is a need to remove the weed completely. While severe drought was putting the farmers into many hardships, fire was destroying thousands of hectares of forests, which is a matter of concern, he added.

He also said that there is a lack of co-ordination between the Forest Department and Fire and Emergency Services Department and added that the Fire Department thinks that they are limited only to city.

Vijayashankar said that the forest staff lacks experience and preparedness to tackle fire and added that movement of mafias in forest borders between the States should be monitored effectively.

Vijayashankar said that Task Forces headed by the concerned DC should by constituted and should hold meetings every month on the problems and solutions to it.

Stating that about 2,900 hectares of forests in the State were destroyed in fire in 2012, 2,500 hectares in 2014 and this year more than the previous numbers, Vijayashankar said that the Forest Department personnel should be provided proper training to tackle forest fires by using the latest technologies available to protect wildlife. Former Minister M. Shivanna, City BJP Unit President Dr. M. Manjunath and others were present.

Sri Rama goes international...

Paramapoojya Dr. Bhashyam Swamiji is a household name in city because of the establishment of Sri Narasimha Temple at Vijayanagar in Mysuru. Hundreds of devotees throng this temple in the morning because worship is done by the Swamiji himself.

Dr. Bhashyam Swamiji is unique for another reason. All of us know that Vishnu took various incarnations (avatara) whenever wicked people tormented good people. Thus Vishnu took ten incarnations like Matsya, Kurma, Varaha, Narasimha etc., and Swamiji has been arranging national conferences on these incarnations. I had the good fortune of attending them. This time the international conference was devoted to Sri Rama and scholars from all parts of India including Delhi to Kanyakumari were there to pay homage to Sri Rama. The topic was analysed from the points of view of Literature, Religion and Art. The venue was the auditorium of Department of Archaeology, Museum and Heritage at Karnataka Exhibition Authority, Mysuru. About 60 Research Scholars attended.

Many people may feel that in a secular country gods have no place in society. Mahatma Gandhi has given a fitting reply to them. Secular does not mean 'no religion': it means equal respect and patronage to all religions. That is why Gandhiji referred to Ramarajya as the ideal society. Even when he was shot at by an assassin he uttered the words Hey Ram.

We worship Rama as a God. Most people believe that a person by name Sri Rama lived and was elevated to the level of God by his good deeds and service to the society. He is referred to as Maryada Purushothama. Thus he was an ideal and model human being. His love and affection to his brothers has become proverbial. His wife Sita has been an ideal housewife. Such a person belongs to the entire world and not merely to India. We say that there is one concept but we refer to it as many according to our perception (Ekamsat Viprabahudha Vadanti).

Scholars have tried to fix the date of Sri Rama's existence as 5,000 years ago. Hundreds of kings and queens have flourished during this period. Most of them are forgotten but Sri Rama lives even now in the hearts of the people. We celebrate Ramanavami and worship him, arrange music programmes and drink panaka and majjige. But it should not be restricted to that only. It should be to think of Rama and the good deeds he did for our society. The story of Sri Rama crossed over our boundaries and to South-East Asian countries like Bali, Java, Cambodia, Thailand, Singapore etc. The people of these countries learnt of Sri Rama and his good deeds and took him over to their countries. He became a celebrity and a God there.

The entire country should be grateful to the great poet sage Valmiki called adikavi (first poet) who contributed this story of Rama to the world. Even Jainas were influenced by the story of Ramayana. Buddhists also were influenced and incorporated them in Jataka Stories.

Art and sculpture are the mirrors of the society. Hundreds of temples contain the relief sculptures of the story of Ramayana. Specially the Hoysala temples are noteworthy from this point of view. However, with the development of Vijayanagar art, Sri Rama became more popular. Many archaeologists feel that Hampi area became sacred because Rama and Sita paid a visit to that place during their exile. This may be a fact or not, but the anxiety of the people to make way for Sri Rama to visit their area is unique.

Nobody can take away Hanuman from Sri Rama, his master. His nobility of character has made him quite popular even in small villages. Even a small village will have a temple or at least a huge sculpture of Hanuman. Our city also has a famous Hanuman temple at the outer gate of the Palace and devotees go to this temple for many reasons. Most people get a tayata (talisman) tied to their arm. The holy water sprinkled over the head and face of the children has been doing good to them. That is the faith of the people in Hanuman.

Archaeological Survey of India under Dr. B. B. Lal did a lot of exploration and excavation and traced the cities and towns mentioned in Ramayana. This shows that Ramayana was not a literary imagination but a fact which happened long long back. There may be some exaggerations here and there committed by the devotees. H. D. Sankalia, one of the greatest archaeologists of this country based at Deccan College, Poona, analysed the various aspects of Ramayana and opined that they are facts with some exaggerations to which people are prone to.

Character of Sri Rama at the family level is unique. Ramayana is a text book for good family life. Rama tried his best to chastise Ravana for his bad deed; but Ravana did not budge an inch and the war was inevitable against the demon. Thus it symbolises our traditional value system of punishing the wicked to save the good (Dushtasikshana and Shistarakshana). This is the message of Lord Krishna also.

South India in general and Karnataka in particular are influenced by Sri Rama. Hundreds of works based on Ramayana were composed in various South Indian languages. Kuvempu's Ramayanadarshana and Dr. Veerappa Moily's work on Ramayana are symbols of this excellent trend. We cannot forget Tulasidas' Ramacharitamanasa. Ramatanka is another unique practice. It is a token and kept for worship in traditional homes and Ramatanka is given as gifts to friends and relations on auspicious occasions. All these show that though Sri Rama is said to have lived long long back he is relevant even to this day. That is the greatest contribution of our culture in general. This is bound to continue for thousands of years in future.

WORD OF THE DAY

Mawkish

Meaning: Sickly or excessively sentimental; Insipid in taste; nauseous; disgusting.
Example: The movie is all about mawkish sentimentality. I did not find it interesting.
Origin: Mawkish originally meant "maggoty." It comes from the Middle English words make and maggot.

THE ODD WORD

Bumptious

Crudely, presumptuously, or noisily self-assertive.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

In an interesting condition

Meaning: A euphemism for pregnancy.
Origin: 'Interesting' has been used since the 18th century as a euphemism for pregnant. Women were said to be in an interesting state or interesting situation and subsequently there was an interesting event (childbirth). For example:
Tobias Smollett, Roderick Random, 1748 - "So that I cannot leave her in such an interesting situation, which I hope will produce something to crown my felicity."
Charles Dickens Nicholas Nickleby, 1838 - "Mrs.Lenville (who, as has been before hinted, was in an interesting state)."
The Westmorland Gazette in its June 1899 edition mentioned: "'Interesting event' at Peterhof. Another daughter!"
It was in America that we find the first reference to an interesting condition as a euphemism for pregnant. The Hagerstown Torch Light printed the phrase in an edition in September 1846:
... "the elopement of a blacksmith named Samuel Fellows and a Mrs. Betsey Reynolds. Mrs. Reynolds is about 31 years of age, and is good looking. She took her family of five children with her. She was also in an interesting condition. Fellows took his two children - making quite an interesting company."
